Per ACIN I-60-13

A telephonic signature is a type of electronic signature that uses an individual's recorded spoken signature or verbal assent in place of an actual written signature, and is considered legally enforceable under certain conditions. The use of a telephonic signature, as part of the application or redetermination/recertification process, will eliminate the process of mailing documents in order to gather a client's ink signature. Section 1633.7(c) of the UETA specifies that if a law requires a signature, an electronic signature satisfies the law. Further, an electronic signature is defined at section 1633.2(h) as an electronic sound, symbol, or process attached to or logically associated with an electronic signature.

Question: Is the telephonic signature sufficient to initiate the CalFresh application and/or recertification application?

10. REQUESTOR'S PROPOSED ANSWER:

The use of a telephonic signature is sufficient to initiate the CalFresh application and/or the recertification application as long as the county has distinguished that a telephonic signature has been gathered by marking this on the electronic case file, for example a check box indicator.

11. STATE POLICY RESPONSE (CFPB USE ONLY):

The state concurs with the proposed response.
